

■ ARCHERY Bats, pumpkins, ghosts, Frankenstein, Christmas tree, balloons and an oversized Christmas pudding were the targets at Bath Archers' recent Halloween and Christmas fun shoots. Large numbers of club members turned out for the two events. The Halloween Shoot, which took place on December 5, ended with a barbecue and fireworks. The Christmas Shoot ended with mince pies in the clubhouse.

Bath Archers member Steve Walker said: "Archery is a serious sport, where we are competing against each other and against ourselves in order to improve on our personal bests. But it's hugely enjoyable as well, particularly when you are shooting at bats, ghosts and Christmas puds. It was nice to see so many new members at the two events. A great time was had by all."
